New York City's ideal creative meeting space.

The CooperKatz "Thought Bubble" offers a convenient space of more than 2,200 square feet for creative meetings, brainstorming or corporate events for up to 30 participants.

Centrally located in midtown Manhattan, the Thought Bubble is minutes away from both Penn Station and Grand Central Station, and can be reserved for half- or full-day sessions.

Professional standards in an inspired setting.

CooperKatz closely collaborates with those holding events in the Thought Bubble space to ensure a seamless meeting experience. Our team organizes all logistics, including catering, technical set-up and space/seating configuration. A CooperKatz team member is available and on-call during all events.

Those who reserve the Thought Bubble appreciate its professional amenities, paired with fun and inspiring surroundings. Bright colors and whimsical décor (think: modern art, vintage toys and even a hockey table) immediately spark creative energy. A variety of seating options offer convenience, comfort and flexibility based on the meeting's purpose and tone. "Idea paint" literally invites participants to write their ideas on the walls, unleashing fresh new thinking. And everyone taking part benefits from a break in their day-to-day routines in a warm and welcoming environment.

Amenities of the Thought Bubble include:

- Multi-media entertainment system (55-inch television, surround sound system, Blu-ray player, cable television subscription)
- Phone conferencing system and video conferencing capabilities
- Laptop for meeting notes or web browsing
- Whiteboards and easel sheets
- Kitchenette
- Popcorn machine
- Treadmill
- Coffee machine
- Video services (upon request)
- Private office for executive phone calls

Trained facilitator to maximize your outcomes.

Ralph Katz, co-founder and principal of CooperKatz & Co., is available to help shape, lead and facilitate creative sessions hosted in the Thought Bubble.

A skilled creative facilitator with more than 30 years of experience, Ralph collaborates with groups in advance to identify goals, create an agenda and then structure and lead the session to ensure that it stays on schedule to accomplish all key milestones.

Our budget structure.

CooperKatz can customize a rental package tailored to your needs and expectations. Typically, the Thought Bubble is rented for either half- or full-day sessions at the following rates:

- Half-day session (four hours, in addition to one hour each for set-up and clean-up): $600
- Full-day session (eight hours, in addition to one hour each for set-up and clean-up): $1,000

Based on your needs, CooperKatz will work with the team to accommodate additional requests such as catering or video/multimedia needs.
